Irrigation Congress Has an Overflow.

Streams of Eloquence on Current Water Topics.

C. B. Boothe of California the Presiding Officer.

resses by Gov. Holcomb, Judge Emery, E. R. Moses and Others.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
LINCOLN (Neb.,) Sept. 28.—Delegates to the National Irrigation Congress, which began its sixth annual session teday, made a record for industry in disposing of work on hand and setting a pace for more elaborate progress to follow.

The initial session was marked by an overflow of enthusiasm from all the participants and visitors. Addresses by such men as Judge Emery of Kansas, E. R. Moses of the same State and Assistant Land Commissioner Best of Washington, D. C., did not fall to awaken interest in the movements they championed, and the sentiments they expressed were applauded and recenced by local speakers, whose interest in expressed were applauded and reschoed by local speakers, whose interest in irrigation projects is reaching the point entertained by districts where the en-terprise is no longer in its infancy. Thus far there has been little said concerning new officers of the congress. Secretary Heintz is understood to be a candidate for resign and has strong candidate for rediction, and has strong supporters. Two aspirants for the next place of meeting have appeared in the cities of Atlanta, Ga., and Guthrie, Okla. Atlanta appears to be generall;

On behalf of the congress, Judge Emery of Lawrence, Kan., with an international reputation as an authority on irrigation subjects, responded to the address of welcome by the Governor and the Chancellor. His speech was a happy mixture of humor with an exposition of the question which called the congress together. So deep and abiding was his faith in irrigation for soil culture, said Judge Emery, that he, with other Kansans, had come to regard that system of farm moisture as the natural one, and rainfall as the secondary element. He congratulated the University of Nebraska as being one of the first educational institutions in the country to take up the study of the irrigation problem. The virgin soil was country to take up the study of the irrigation problem. The virgin soil was the source of all wealth, and when people learned to regard it, and by scientific means to aid nature in supplying the deficient moisture, it would mean regeneration not only of the West, but of the sisterhood of States.

Judge Best took the place of Commissioner Harmon as a representative of the Federal government, and was followed briefly by Eimer R. Read, State Engineer of Wyoming.

President Boothe, after announcing various committees, addressed himself to the convention proper in a carefully-prepared paper.

E. R. Moses of Great Bend, Kan., chairman of the National Executive

streams of water was the subject of an extended and carefully-prepared paper by Dr. J. G. Sutton of Rushsylvania. O. Dr. Sutton at the outset admitted that his subject was an unpopular one, inasmuch as it invaded a field heretofore held by water witches, or those claiming to be endowed with "divine power, aided by a forked stick." His experience was, however, that by following the ordinary rules of scientific research, the location of sub-surface water was possible, having no connection with superstition and other rubbish surrounding the subject.

Upon the established theory that the earth is a magnet, he gave in detail the results of his investigations covering a period of twelve years. Water and matter surrounding it under the surface were magnetic to such a degree, Dr. Sutton claimed, as to influence action above the ground. He concluded: "I have been caulious about falling into the error of assuming more than my experimental results seem to justify. And now, degmatic as the assertion may appear, I declare to you that I have been fortunate enough to devise an electro-magnetic device so finely sensitive to variations in the earth's magnetism that I amenabled to accurately trace and map sub-surface streams of water."

Dr. Sutton's paper was the last set speech of the afternoon and the business session followed, but was limited to the appointment of committees on Permanent Organization and Resolutions. California's delegate heads the list of the latter, but this has no significance, as the committee will meet and elect its own chairman.

Tonight the members of the congress were tendered an informal reception at the Capitol building by Gov. Holcomb, other State officers and Lincoln citizens.

[ARSOLIATED PRIESS DAY REPORT.]

LINCOLN (Neb..) Sept. 28.—Aside from disappointment over a smaller attendance from outside States than was expected, the conditions for the opening of the Sixth National Irrigation Congress were mest auspicious. Thirteen States were represented this morning. Irrigation topics were discussed by such authorities as E. R. Mozes of Kansas, Dr. George E. Young of Utah, Ex-Senator Carey of Wyoming, Dr. E. L. Kellogg of Colorado and C. H. Hamilin of Texas.

A meeting of the executive board was held at 11 o'clock largely for the purpose of outlining the work of the three days' convention, but it decided to leave the matter of the arrangement of the programme and papers to a committee composed of the president and secretary of the congress. C. B. Boothe of California will act as president and secretary of the congress.

Rev. A. J. Mailley offered prayer. Chairman Moses of the National Com-mittee announced the names of secre-taries, and Secretary Heintz read the call for a meeting. Gov. Holcomb wel-comed the delegates in an address of

LAYS DOWN THE LAW. E. R. Moses, chairman of the Na-toinal Executive Committee, said in

E. R. Moses, chairman of the National Executive Committee, said in part:

"The people of the United States must know of their country in order to judge intelligently of the wants and needs of any part of it, and then they must have that love of country so strong in their hearts that they forget self, section, birthplace and State in their desire to build up America as 'the land of the free and the home of the brave.' When this is done, there will be no longer a flaunting of the bloody shirt at every hustings, or in every spread-eagle speech, the constant repetition of 'a solid South.' a 'grasping East,' a 'frigid North,' and a 'wild and woolly West.' The time has come when this nation, like the other nations of the earth, must ever be alert in making due and ample preparation for the comfort and happiness of her people.

"This government, founded as it was upon that grand and paternal proposition, to secure the blessings of liberty and happiness to ourselves and posterity; can no longer forget her posterity than a father can his children, Forget them. I say, by withholding from them for settlement the many thousands of homes that lie in this western country—homes that are their birthright, as much so as the homesteads that are now the castles of so many true, brave and noble American citizens. Heretofore this government has been most generous with her free homes for her people. The people living in this section are most patriotic, and to their horders many of the 2,000,000 or more idle and homeless in the crowded and congested cities of the East are looking for the time when these western lands are made available for a settlement. Philanthropists and humanitarians see the great opportunity for solving one of the most vital and serious questions of the times—the settlement of the worthy unemployed—and homeless—upon these lands, while politicians and statesmen realize the fact, if they do not carry it into practice, that the safety and perpetuity of this government lies in having homes for its worthy, homeless citizens.

"The time has come to the minds of all who fully know the tondition of the East and the West that this country can no longer remain half-settled and half-unsettled, any more than it could have remained half-free and half-slave. Individual and cooperative efforts have gone as far as they can go. Uncle Sam owns this unsettled land, and it has now come to the parting of the ways; either the government must open these lands for settlement, or turn them over in fee simple to the States and Territories in which they lie, that they may open them for settlement. The settlement of the West means only that the products of the soil go East for the products of the bown as the Pub

Luetgert's Counsel Bases Much on This Fact.

A Nebraska Attorney Loom Up Important.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NEGHT REPORT.) CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The battle between the experts has begun, and from now on there will be denials thrown at the evidence of the medical and chemical wise men who testified for the State in the Luetgert case. The defense put its first witness in the expert line on the stand today, and he will be followed by a long string of others. The witness of today was Dr. R. L. Riese, who botied two bodies in caustic potash, in behalf of the State.

Another witness of the day was Armadale Opdyke, a peddief, who testified that long after the murder is said to have been committed he saw Mrs. Luetgert in the neighborhood of Janesville, Wis. Witness said that there was no chance of his being mistaken, and he identified the photograph of her CHICAGO, Sept. 28 .- The battle be-was no chance of his being mistacen, and he identified the photograph of her which he was shown in court in the most positive manner. Two girls were placed on the stand to impeach the testimony of Emma techinpke, who said that she saw Luctgert and his wife enter the factory on the night on which the murder is said to have been committed.

The effect of his testimony was to amount to over a twentieth part of an inch, the physician said. Ex Judge Vincent declared this statement substantiated the story of the defense that Luetgert was making soap in the vat, and that the grease in the soap boiled over and flowed on the floor.

Luetgert will probably go on the stand in his own behalf on Thursday.

MARY QUITE CONTRARY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—It is said the prosecution in the Luetgert case is seriously contemplating the indictment of Mary Siemmering for perjury, as inspector Schaack denounces her statement that he had intimidated her has utterly false. She also related incidents in which the Assistant State's Attorney's name figured unpleasantly. He also is aroused, and plainly states that she falsified.

Today's proceedings opened with Dr. Clarence Rutherford, Luetgert's family physician, on the stand. He testified to Mrs. Luetgert's physical condition. It was also attempted to show her mental condition, but the prosecution objected unless it was shown that the witness was an expert on mental discesses.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—[Special Dispatch.] The Herald's Washington dispatch says:

"The official announcement of the departure of the Japanese craiser Naniwa for Yokohama, together with the statement that the immigration question razing between Japan and Hawaii, is likely to be shortly settled without arbitration, has thrown a peaceful appect around American questions in the Pacific. This cheering news has been communicated to the State Department by Minister Sewall, stationed at Honoiulu, whose mail reports have reached the department. The most important statement made by Sewall is that the Hawaiian-Japanese authorities have estimated that $100,000 in gold will settle the claims of Japan against the Dole authorities as a result of the rejection as immigrants of some turbow hundred immigrants who came to the islands last spring.

"Heretofore Japan has sheliered heralf techind the statement that Hawaii must first admit the principle of measury liability, and when this admission to the wound. The fact that the Mikado is now willing to discuss the amount chaimed, instead of the principle, means, in the opinion of the State Department officials, that if measurary the Dole authorities can rid themselves of a troublecome question before Congress convenes, so that Hawaii might present heraelf for admission to the Union free from a foreign question.

Congressman Fitsgerald obtained the floor, and said he and his friends feit insuited at the decision of Chairman Doherty. The convention squeiched Congressman Fitsgerald by passing a vote of confidence in Mr. Doherty. The platform was then adopted.

Oliver Downing of Boston in a stirring speech nominated George Fred Williams for Governor. Mr. Williams was nominated by a unanimous vote. He was escorted to the platform and made his speech of acceptance.

[ASSOCIATED PRIDS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Gen. Benjamin F. Tracy, the former Secretary of the Navy, was tonight nominated by the convention of the regular Beyond Benn organization for Mayor of Greater New York. Beth Low, the nominoe of the Citisens' Union, got less than fifty of the 268 votes cast. His name was received by the delegates and spectators with jeers and hisses, and Jacob Worth, the leader of the opposition to Senator Platt, was cried down when he essayed to present Low's name.

None of the defeated Low men, however, expressed an intention to bolt the regular ticket. The Citisens' Union several days age announced that the withdrawal of Low was out of the question, and the Republican Committee at the same time presented an uitimatum to the effect that Low was not acceptable to the Republican organization.

Negotiations were then discontinued, and were not resumed today, although the Brooklyn Committee of Frity and the Purroy Lemocracy, both supporting Low, made a last appeal to the Republican beaders in Low's bead, These organizations, it is said, are still level to Low. Wants the Quarantine Removed Suspicious Case at Houston, Tex. Shotgun Quarentine Against That Town-One Death Each at Edward and Mobile.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 28.—The yellow-fever situation here continues exasperatingly the same. A daily average of eighteen to twenty cases and two deaths has kept up, but while there is no sign of an epidemical visitation, the slow progress of the disease puts obstacles faily in the way of the merchant public, who are anxious to again resume trade with the surrounding country. The record today was not unlike that of many other days, in that I showed a death through sheer neglect of the patient, and of twenty-one cases up to date having a fatal termination. The facts are incontrovertable that at least one-half died through neglect or lack of attention.

Business is showing feeble signs of revival, and the railroads are putting forward superhuman efforts to secure a modification of the quarantine regulations. In September, 1878, there were between eighty and ninety people dying of yellow fever daily. The daily average since the beginning of the fever here is hardly one. Today the following deaths were reported:

(AMDRILES CAIR...) Sept. B...—The noon report of the Board of Health today shows the effect of excessive hot weather of the past six days upon the populare. The number of cases recorded for the past twenty-four hours was ten, all the patients having been taken ill from the Eld to the Pith. One death announced was that of Mrs. Alma Kersh, reported inst night.

The board's summary is 60 cases, 9 deaths, 50 recovered and 25 under treatment. The ratio of deaths to cases is it per cent. Brother Symphorian died at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the industrial tlardens and Boys' School on Lafayette street.

Motherhood.

A mother who is in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution. The child fairly drinks in health from its mother's robust constitution before birth, and from a healthy mother's milk after.

Is not that an incentive to prepare for a healthy mother's milk after.

Is not that an incentive to prepare for a healthy maternity?

Do you know the meaning of what is popularly called those "longings," or cravings, which beset so many women during pregnancy?

There is something lacking in the mother's blood. Nature cries out and will be satisfied at all hazarda. One woman wants sour things, another wants sait things, and so on.

The real need all the time is to enrich the blood so as to supply nourishment for another life, and to build up the entire generative system, so that the birth may be possible and successful.

If expectant mothers would fortify themselves with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for twenty years has sustained thousands of women in this condition, there would be fewer disappointments at birth, and they would not experience those annaying "longings."

In the following letter to Mrs. Pinkham, Mrs. Whitney demonstrates the power of the Compound in such cases. She says:

"From the time I was sixteen years old till I was twenty-three, I was troubled with weakness of the kidneys and terrible pains when my monthly periods came on. I made up my mind to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was soon relieved. After I was married, the doctor and I would never be able to go my full time and have a living child, as I was constitutionally weak. I had lost a baby at zeven months and a half. The next time I commenced at once and continued to take your Compound through the period of pregnancy, and I said then, if I went my full time and the baby lived to be three months old, I should send a letter to you. My baby is now seven months old and is as healthy and hearty as one could wish.

"I am so thankful that I used your medicine, for it gave me the robust health to transmit to my child. I cannot express my gratifued to you! I never expected such a blessing. Praise God for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and may others who are suffering do as I did and find relief, and may many homes be brightened as mind has been."—Mns. L. Z. W

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

A Word for Main street.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. S.—{To the Editor of The Times:} The current agitation over the repaving of Spring street and the suggestion of results onisous to property-owners should they fail to come forward with this much-needed improvement, suggest a very serious reason for their being a little sensitive to the public pulse in this matter. In a city like Los Angeles, where the three principal business streets are so conveniently adjacent as are Main, Spring and liroadway, an intelligent and well-defined reason for avoiding one of these thereughfares when upon another the same goods can be purchased for the same goods can be purchased for the same goods can be purchased for the same cooney, regist result disastrously to the trade of that street.

Property-owners in the southern part of the city in that portion bounded by Tweifth, San Pedro, Grand avenue and Jefferson, have compained at the clow increase of values in their locality. Let me ask, are not these people depending for their advance interly upon the development of Main street to some of the great business theroughfares of the city, and yet how few of them this as they ungader over to Spring twhere the crowds are) to do their trading.

There are encush people interested in the advancement of Main street to held its destinate in their hands, and if they would only "practice what they preach," the success of the street would be assured.

Sheriff and Detective Describe Exciting Encounter - constable Says There Was no Fight and the Sheriff Wasn't There.

Sheriff Charlebols of Ventura and Detective John Brighton of Los Angeles came into the Times office on the evening of September 24 and told to very interesting tale of their tremen-dous and hair-raising adventure with a horse thief near Calabasas. They told upon the Sheriff, drew his snickersnee and was about to slaughter the in-trepid Sheriff; how the brave Brighton coolly shot an ear off the thief and trepld Sheriff; how the brave Brighton coolly shot an ear off the thief and knocked him down; how the Sheriff kicked the knife out of the desperado's hand, hurled himself upon the fellow and handcuffed him, and much more that was equally lurid. Brighton told most of the blood-curdling details, and he begged as a special favor that it be stated that he, John Brighton, said Sheriff Charlebpis was the bravest and coolest man that ever assisted him in the capture of a dangerous criminal. All of which is interesting and may be true but there is a Constable in Simi who tells another tale. A. J. Draper, Justice of the Peace in Simi, writes that Constable Stones requests him to give the correct account of the capture. This is the account given in writing by Justice Draper:

"Mr. Stones was notified over the 'phone by Under-Sheriff Snodgrass of this county, in the forenoon, and immediately stanted after his man. Graham appears to have stopped at some house between Simi and Calabasas, as Mr. Stones got ahead of him. Two residents of that section, Crain and Grantwer assisting Stones in the hunt, and, seeing a man who answered the description, called on him to halt, but he left the road and drove to a barranca on the edge of which he left the bugy and attempted to escape on foot. However, the three men surrounded him, and captured him without resistance. He was arrested about 4 p.m. and Sheriff Charlebois did not arrive till about sundown, by which time Graham was located in the jail at Calabasas. The thief had two pocket knives, one of which he threw away, and the other was taken out of his pocket by Stones, who kept it."

MEDIUM TAKES POISON.

is Relieved, Together with a Goodly Amount of "Spirits."

Guy Mannering Threlkild, spiritualistic medium, who advertises in the papers here as "Prof. Mannering, the greatest inspirational writing nedium on the continent today," attempted suicide last night at the "partors," room 1, No. 496 South Main street, just over the "40" saloon. Threikild was removed to the Receiving Hospital, where a goodly quantity of tothache medicine and spirits were pumped from him with the result that his 'wrant's' will not be returnable for some time to come.

Threlkild's wife, she who is announced as "the trunce medium that created such a sensation among the created such a sensation among the Wall-street brokers of New York and other great cities in her wonderful dead trances and visions," came to Los Angeles some time ago. Threikild joined her three weeks ago, and, according to Mrs. Threikild's statement, made last night, Threikild wasn't the only "Guy" in town. But Threikild, like many others, couldn't stand prosperity. He liked to commune with spirits other than those with which his wife and he, as a combination, did business. He drank heavily. Last night he came home about 9 o'clock, intoxicated. He says his dutiful wife dared him to drink the toothache medicine, which was labeled "poison." She says he "just took it." However that may be, the patrol wagon was called, and when that antiquated affair reached the scene Threikild was still alive.

"I'm his wife," explained the celebrated trance medium to a reporter last night. "If you don't believe me I'll show you our marriage certificate; last night. "If you don't believe me I'll show you our marriage certificate; that is, if you'll call around tomorrow. It is packed up wth my other papers and letters in a box, and I don't know just where it is. Of course," she continued, "you know that this medium business is a fake. All spiritualistic business is. A Spring-street Victim.

The first tragedy of the holes on Spring street occurred yesterday, as the circus parade was passing Franklin street, where is located one of the largest and most picturesque pits on the line of much-pitted Spring street. Up on top of a gay circus wagon the band was rolling out that sort of double-quick music for which circus bands are justiy famous. The off wheels of the gilded vehicle dropped hub deep into that yawning hole, and the cornet player got a smash in the mouth from his horn that will make him remember Los Angeles far longer than will its attractions of flowers, climate and pretty girls. One of Mr. Main's attachés, who witnessed the accident, remained on the spot until the shricking colliope had passed, warning drivers of the "taggers" and "king of beasts" cases to turn out around that hole, otherwise their chronicles would have been of more dire import, we do not doubt, than the simple narration of how a circus cornet player got a smash in the mouth from the mouthpiece of his resounding horn.

Meanwhile, that hole is still there, yawning for more victims. Next!

The programme was opened with the singing of "America" by the audience, a prayer by the Rev. C. W. Tarr, and another song. Rev. J. H. H. The delights of camp fires and reunions of old veterans, where many an unpublished story was told, were dwelt upon. Loyal tributes, couched in glowing language, were paid to the noble leaders in the war, Sheridan, with whom the speaker had been associated, being referred to as "an army of one; a Napoleon in brain and courage, but more than that, a Napoleon in purity." Tecumsch Sherman's brave deeds were eulogized, and considerable time was devoted to memoirs of Ulysses S. Grant, his bravery and nobility as a man and a soldier and his ideal relations with his family. A touching sketch of Gen. Grant's last illness was given; his desire for baptism at the hands of the speaker, and a prayer as his death drew near.

Entertaining anecdotes from his own experiences were related by the bishop, who went on to say that there was one power at which he stood aghast, "that awful power of assigning men to their appointments." That he believed that the ministers' desires should be consulted as far as possible, and that a presiding elder who would not consult with the preachers about the latter's appointments was not fit to be a presiding elder. That he wanted the brethren to feel free to come to him and consult him in their affairs, and as to their preferences in regard to appointments. That he wanted them to come and "ask lagely, but not too much."

departments of the various municipalities which will be consolidated into the Greater New York has revealed a shortage of from $1,600,000 to $2,000,000 in Brooklyn. Unless special legislation is obtained at Albany to prevent it, this shortage will be saddled upon the taxpayers of the greater city.

Under a clause of the charter creating the Greater New York, the Comptroller of the present city of New York was required to examine and pass upon the accounts of the financial officers of the cities and towns that are included in the different boroughs. Two months ago Comptroller Fitch appointed a number of expert accountants to do this work. The accountants selected to go through the books of Brooklyn found matters in bad shape.

One of the first things encountered was a discrepancy of $1,500,000 between the books of the Comptroller and those of the Registrar of Taxes. This was found to represent the unpaid taxes of Brooklyn, which had been allowed to accumulate year after year, until the amount due the city is estimated at from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

It finds that five new docks are necessary, at a cost of $5,775,000. In addition, the board recommends a dock at San Pedro of concrete, and 500 feet long, to cost $1,500,000.

Among other things, some of the improvements recommended are contingent upon compliance with certain conditions. For instance, at San Francisco, upon the survey of Yerba Buena Island; at Mare Island, upon the channel improvements, and at San Pedro, upon harbor improvements.

nei improvements, and at san redro, upon harbor improvements.

Respecting the recommendations of the board as to another dock at Mare Island, it is known to be the intention of the department to reject the suggestion, unless it can be assured that more battleships will be built on the Pacific Coast. At present there is only one such vessel, the Oregon, in the Pacific Ocean, and while the department feels keenly the need for more ships of a formidable style, it is not deemed good policy to build another dock in addition to that at Puget Sound for one ship. The report abounds with careful reasoning in support of all its recommendations and advantages, and the drawbacks are set out in detail.

It was cer-tainly an unusual manifestation of peaceableness when the mob, in re-sponse to the Sheriff's demand to halt, be blamed for misunderstanding such a manifestation of amity and good will; though perhaps he should have been censured by "we, the jury," for not making a personal examination of each of the rioters, to ascertain whether they were armed or unarmed. Judge Smith sentenced Ed McCamish to Folsom for the balance of his natural life yesterday. The Judge incidentally expressed his opinion as to the merits of the important evidence brought out in the trial, pronouncing the alleged robbery of McCamish's room, in his judgment, a rank fake.

The City Attorney presented a report to the Poice Board at its meeting yesterday, in which he expressed the opinion that despite Justice Morrison's recent decision to the contrary, the "tape game" is illegal and a violation of the State law against gambling. Inasmuch as the offense is, in his opinion, covered by the State law, the City Attorney does not think it would be advisable to pass a city ordinance prohibiting the "tape game." The remainder of the session was chiefly devoted to saloon matters.

President Silver of the City Council appeared before the board to urge a stricter inforcement of the ordinance requiring property-owners to keep their shade trees and hedges property-trimmed. Chief Glass stated that the police often found it impossible to inforce the ordinance, many property-owners being non-residents, and they agents being unwilling or unauthorized to make expenditures for such purposes. A communication was read from the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association reciting the plans laid before the City Council for avesquing by hand half a dozen streets in the business center, and stating that the success of the experiment would depend in a great measure upon a streeter inforcement of the hitching ordinance. The communication also requested a stricter inforcement of the ordinance against expectorating on sidewalks.

Chief Glazer said that it is an impossibility to inforce the hitching ordinance. With two policement for every block it would be impossible. As to the ordinance against expectorating on sidewalks, he said the folice were doing what they could to enforce it.

Commissioner Glibson said that if an ordinance were enacted altogether prohibiting the hitching of horses on the business streets, the police would inforce it. The commissioners were all of the opinion that the present ordinance must remain a dead letter.

It is further stated that the Canadian postal savings banks had deposits or hand at the time of the last official report amounting to about $29,000,000 representing the savings of 154,000 de positors. The population of Canada is, approximately, 5,000,000. A wisely-planned postal savings bank system would meet with immense pop-ular favor. It is altogether probable that the voluntary offerings, if such-a system were established, would aggre-gate much nearer to $1,000,000,000 than to half that sum, within the first year By wise management, the system could not only be made self-sustaining but could be made to yield some reve-nue to the national treasury, after paying a moderate rate of interest to depositors. It would have the further advantage of bringing the government

Every depositor would have a direct

If the patriotic men of both branches of Congress, irrespective of partisan lines, will take up and con-sider this question dispassionately, a wise and practical conclusion can and will be reached. The issue has abso-tutely no relation to partisan politics, and there will be no reason or excuse-for bringing it into the domain of par-tisan dispute. It is a business reverse

Chamber of Commerce of the 8 B, city to withdraw its exhibit from the Los Angeles chamber. The 8, B, journal says that "if the chimber thinks it can do better than to exhibit at Los Angeles, it has a perfect right to lay out its mones cisewhere." Certainly—to be sure! The loss will fail on San Diego, not on Los Angeles. If the B, B, city chooses to cut off its none to spite its face, well and good. It has a right thus to disfigure itself if it sees fit. But at the same time, Los Angeles citizens and hewspapers have an inalienable right to comment on the short-nightedness and folly of the S, B. fellows. It seems that these comments have touched a raw spot, to judge by the squirming of the B, B.'s.

If the S.* B, papers imagine that there is any "acrimony" on the part of Los Angeles citizens over the action of the Bay'nclimate Chamber of Commerce, they are under a great mistake. The suggestion has been made, and apparently with wishom that the new contract for lighting the streets should be for a term not exceeding six months. The reason is that within that time the companies that are operating in the mountains for the development of electricity will be in the field with "juice" to sqil, and that the city can therefore make a much more favorable contract that the wise course is to make no long-time contract, but that one for six months is amuch more favorable contract that the wise course is to make no long-time contract, but that one for six months is the same vice. The closing of the station provided by Postmaster Matthews for the temporary accommodation of University district is unfortunate and inconvenient, but there seems to be no reason for viciously attacking the department. The delay in providing permanent service may be explained. Time enough to pitch into Perry Heath when the ts are known.

Some officers of the law are so hun-gry for fame that they are not always careful to stick to the facts in relating their heroic achievements in the capture of malefactors. That Ventura horse-thief may have been captured after a desperate struggle, by an in-trepid sheriff and a daring deputy, but a constable says he wasn't. When the officers tell such conflicting stories to the papers, who can be depended upon for the truth? The horse-thief, prob-ably.

The season for hunting birds will open in a few days. The season for dragging leaded and cocked shotguns out of boats and wagons and through brush is already here, and the crop of items concerning "accidents" to hunt-ers is being harvested. Any man is ers is being harvested. Any man is liable to fits of negligence or absent-mindedness, and it may be unfair to regard as an irreclaimable and incorrigible fool the hunter who gets in front of his own gun, but it does seem as if all the fools in the country go prowling around with guns and handling them like fence pickets.

A dozen men have come forward with rough inventions, or rather, suggestions, of ice lecomotives to hauf freight up the Yukon this winter, but they are all behind Mulkey of Los Angeles, who worked out his invention to the smallest detail and applied for patents some time ago. All these inventions are very ingenious, and if the Yukon would only freeze amouth, which it doesn't, they would be very useful. Alaskan travelers say the Tukon ice is rough and broken, the Members of the Chamber of Commerce and their families, numbering in all over two hundred people, went on the excursion yesterday afternoon to inspect the County Poor Farm. ists left the city a little behind the regular afternoon train.

At the County Farm the visitors leisurely made their way along one of the shady, shrubbery-lined avenues leading to the grounds on which the principal buildings front. Tables had been spread and laden with a substantial luncheon. When this had been disposed of, order was called for by Supervisor E. S. Fleld, chairman of the Hospital and Farm Committee of the board. He said the board had invited the visitors because that body desired to have them come and see how the ingdigent people of the county were being cared for. "We invite inspection of all departments," he said, "and we also invite your kindly criticism of the mangement." Mr. Field proceeded to point out the several buildings, and stated that there are about 180 inmates. The question had frequently been asked: "Does the farm support itself?" In reply he would say that it did not. It contained about 200 acres, and it could scarcely be expected that the farm would support an inmate per acre. He said it is at present costing the county about $185,000 per year for charitable purposes. This amount includes the support of the people at the farm, those at their homes, to whom the board fugnishes a regular allowance. He pointed out how great discretion must be exercised in admitting indigents to the farm, and announced that the Terminal Railway Company had of others at their homes, to whom the board fugnishes and the City Council also spoke briefly, telling how he had found the poor farm in reality the richard for that body, extended thanks to the farm in the county.

the institution whose services had been useful.

Bupervisor A. E. Davis told how, only a few years ago, the County Farm was nothing but sand and fleas. He explained the workings of the institution, and said there was one man there whom the city should never have allowed to come to such a place. This man had founded one of the cities of the county, and had lost his money in the boom. (It was afterward learned that Mr. Davis referred to W. E. Willmore, who founded Willmore City, which afterward became Long Blench.)

Dr. and Mrs. Burdick, in charge of the farm, were presented to the gathering, which then broke up.

'The visitors roanted about the plantation at will. They passed through buildings as spick and span as soapwater and whitewash could make them. Then they reached the barn at the milking hour. The cow that is said to give ten gallons of milk per day was pointed out with much pride.

Dr. Burdick said to one of the visitors that he expects the farm's orange crep this season to amount to like boxes, for which he hepes to realize $1.55 each. The daily expense per capita, for inmates of the farm is a little over $1 cents.

THE WINE TRADE. In spite of the onflict that is now going on among the wine men regarding prices, the out the wine men regarding prices, the out-look for the wine trade is now better than it has been for many years. The vintage is now well under way in Cali-fornia, and the prospect is for an enor-mous yield. The Pacific Wine and Spirit Review'sums up the situation as follows:

"With the exception of some minor sections, the yield is very large, and, notwithstanding the steady loss of vines by disease, it is thought the yield will approach if not equal that of 1891. If this be the case, the folly of engaging in a slogging match with wine values for weapons is only too evident. On the other hand, even with an excessive crop, we have the remarkable industrial and business revival in the East to give employment to hundreds of thousands, of which many were former consumers, and will become so again. It looks like a plain case of throwing money away, and that is not business. One needs no sharp foresight to see that it is time to stand from under, get in harmony and prepare to market the wines of this vintage at prices that will give reasonable returns to producer and merchant." With the exception of some mine

WOOL. The wool market still continues steady. Sales have still kept up at a lively rate, and the market is now more than 50 per cent. higher than it was during the low-tariff period. The outlook now is for a steady market, and many expect that prices will soon be as high as they were in 1892. The market for woolen goods is also in excellent shape.

BIG BUSINESS. A private letter from Chicago states that during the first two weeks of this month the wholesale houses did a business of $12,-000,000. If this is not prosperity then it is certainly something very much like it.

THE CANNED GOODS TRADE. Sale canned goods so far in California s been ahead of the record for sevul years past. Stocks throughout the intry were almost exhausted at the ginning of the season. The demand still good, and prices promise to be intained. Most of the canneries are working on tomatoes, for which we is a good demand.

NATURAL GAS. With all the ex-tement that has attended the develop-ent of oil in and around Los Anreies, it is remarkable that so little attention has been paid to the ques-ion of natural gas, from which big fortunes have been made in some of the States east of the mountains. It is known that large quantities of gas have been escaping from the local wells, and in some cases the gas has been utilized for fuel, but as a rule it has been allowed to go to waste. Since the wells were closed down for a couple of weeks it has been noticed that the flow of gas has increased, and possibly something may now be done toward utilizing this valuable product.

It is not only in Los Angeles that gas exists in considerable quantities. There is a natural gas well as Rose-crans, between Los Angeles and the ocean, which was utilized for some time to furnish fuel in the kitchen of the ranch-house. Possibly a systematic effort to develop natural gas in this section might prove quite remunerative. rtunes have been made in some of the

NEW YORK Sept. 28.—Today's market for stocks was astonishingly duil, and the total transactions as low as that of yesterday and was smaller than for many months, the total sales numbering only $70,000 shares. It became evident that yesterday's duilness could not be ascribed to the Jewish New Year holiday. It is an obvious fact that the large buying interests which have been so powerful a factor in the recent buil movement, have retired from the field for a time, and the orders through commission houses, the medium through which the public at large operates, have shown a corresponding failing-off. There are some who believe that the large buil operators have already liquidated their holdings and taken their profits. Certain it is that there was no evidence in today's market of any heavy offering of long stock. The recent conspicuous buils, nevertheless, seemed to acquiesce and offered little opposition to the bears. Practically all of the room traders have turned bears, and their selfing is called short selling. The most vigorous attack today was directed against the conlers, on the assertion that the anthractic companies have been exceeding the allotted output, and that there was no increase in the output that make any advance in the price of coal likely. Some of the prominent industrials and the grangers were also under pressure. Whatever spurts of activity were shown during the day, were on a downward course of prices and any steadying of the market or recovery brought intense dulluess, indicating the weak undertone. Conditions, nevertheless, all continued favorable as pointing to a further increase in values of property. Railway earnings all continued to show improvement for the Atchison company showed an increase of the total income from operation of $131.583. London sent higher prices at the opening and was a buyer of stock all day, presumbly to meet the settlement which was in progress there. The report that the government has assented to the foreclosur at the settlement, but the tone was better than for some time past and the markets locking generally healthler. The rise in Investment stocks is due to the indefinite idea that money may not get much dearer. Six months English treasury bills for £2,000,000 were allotted today at an average of 2 per cent, which assisted this notion of easier money. Contango and Americans were 3½6½ per cent. The account was not especially large. The tone was good, and there was a disposition here to deal for the liew account, but the New York selling tonight surprised and discouraged the operators, and prices closed weak. Canadian Pacific was especially strong as a laso Grand Trunks. Mines were distinctly better. Unless something unforseen occur, the new accounts bid to be fairly active in most markets. Reports of damage by drought and frost in Argentine were also plentiful. This caused an advance in December to 21\frac{1}{2}\sqrt{1}\text{ their discourage} the season, the market ruled weak. There was but one interruption to the decline, and that came when the closing Liverpool cables were posted, showing 1\sqrt{0}\sqrt{0}\sqrt{1}\text{4}\text{ advance}. Continental cables were irregular, Antwerp reporting 12\sqrt{2}\text{centimes decline, while Paris showed a 10 centimes advance in September with later deliveries unchanged. The market as a whole was very dull with an almost total absence of outside support. December was selling at 20\text{4}\text{3}\text{4}\text{ the close}. Corn opened easy and became weak as the session advanced, The weakest feature of the situation was that cash corn was offered 2 cents below December prices. It closed 3-4 cent lower than yesterday. There was little doing in oats. The market was weak from the start, principally through sympathy with wheat. Provisions were steady at the opening. Market soon became weak on free offerings of ribs by packers feature of the situation was that cash corn was offered 2 cents below December. The leading futures ranged as follows:

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—The wool market here shows a quieter tone this week, although values are very strong and have hardened more or less during the week. Most business is being done in fine medium and fine on a scoured basis of 46g48 cents. Fleece wools are also firmer and sales moderate. The demand for Australian wools is yet liberal, and the price is gradually working up toward the importing price.

Good

Is essential to health. Every nook and corner of the Blood system is reached by the blood, and on its quality the condition of every organ depends. Good blood means strong nerves, good digestion, robust health. Impure blood means scrofula, dyspepsia, rheuma-tism, catarrh or other diseases. The surest way to have good blood is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine purifies, vitalizes, and enriches the blood, and sends the elements of health and strength to every nerve, organ and tissue. It creates a good appetite, gives refreshing sleep and cures that tired feeling. Rem

A GRUB-STAKE SCHEME.

An elderly lady, claiming to be a doctor, is visiting widows having money or property and trying to induce them to invest in a Klondyke scheme. The scheme is to grubstake a mysterious miner and send him_to Alaska. She is a very plausible talker, and has succeeded in interesting several property-owners in her scheme. One woman was making preparations to mortgage her home, when a friend asked how she knew a man would be sent, and, even if one were, how she knew she would get a share of what gold was found. Then it first dawned upon her that she knew absolutely nothing about "Dr. Newhall" other than what the doctor had told her.

The woman is a very smooth, plausible talker, and her arguments are said to be of a convincing nature, but she is unknown in Pasadedia, and she will not divulge the name of the miner she proposes sending to Klondyke.

Associations Futile.

ONTARIO, Sept. 28.—[Regular Correspondence.] A conference of considerable importance was held a few days since between the Ontario Orranze Aszociation, the Ontario Lemon Association and the Cucamonga association, with a view of forming a district exchange. The first two organizations are affiliated with the Southern California Fruit Exchange, while the last is an independent association. It seems that the Cucamonga people are anxious to enter the exchange, but will not be allowed to do so without affiliating with some other associations in a distirct exchange, and there was a failure to reach an agreement. It is understood that the Cucamonga association will hold another meeting Saturday, at which time it will discuss the question of entering the San Bernardino county exchange, which has headquarters at Colton. Representatives of the Cucamonga association who have been interviewed say that the sentiment is almost unanimously in favor of entering the Sen Bernardino county exchange, which has headquarters at Colton. Representatives of the Cucamonga association with hold another meeting for the exchange, which has beadquarters at Colton. Representatives of the Cucamonga association with his exchange in the first state of the continuously in favor of entering the seneral exchange movement if a satisfactory way can be found, but there are personal differences between their locality and Ontario, while Colton seems to be too far away.

to $12 per ton. These contracts were made before the market price of raisins was established, and as a consequence a considerable quantity of raisin grapes were sold for wine making. The output of raisins will, however, he about the same as last year, as the improvement in the crop over that of last year is expected to make up the loss through sales for wine and through the tearing up of the vines to plant other crops.

In ylew of the restoration of profit in the raisin industry, it is interesting to note the disappearance of the raisin industry from Southern California. There was a time when filverside, Redlands and a number of other localities were heavy producers of raising, but the vines were almost entirely destroyed to make way for oranges and other fruits when the bottom dropped out of the industry. Cucamonga almost alone in Southern California, bald onto the ret oplant the vineyards to citrus fruits, and white some of the vines have already been removed, there are a number of vineyards in which the trees are growning, and it has been the intention of the grapes of remova their which fall. Kich returned this morning from a processional trip to the desert. They were accompanied by B. A. Pierson, who is held without ball to answer to the charge of murder in the first degree for the killing of Louis Bellman at Homer; and Henry Ralphs, who will spend ninety days in the County Jail for assaulting James Henry at Barstow.

It was the Barstow cutting affray that called the officials to the desert. The District Attorney and the stenographer left Friday. Later in the day news of the killing at Homer reched here, and that night the Coroner and the Sheriff left in the wake of the other officers.

The Barstow affair happened this way: Two tramps, James Henry and Honry Ralphs, Kot into an sitercation. Ralphs took the initiative and for a time amused himself by chasing Henry up and down the station platform, armed the while with an iron rod and asservating at frequent intervals his intention to drive Henry out of town. The latter finally made a stand, and when Ralphs swore out a warrant against Henry, charging him with assault with a deadly wepon, but Dist-Atty. Daley sized the matter up in another light. He asked that the case against Henry to dismissed, which was done. Ralphs was then arrested, charged with assaulting Henry; was adjudged guilty by Justice Gooding and sentenced to ninety days in the County Jail.

As the range and some of the distances were new, the scores did not average as high as had been expected, but it is some satisfaction to the contestants to know that only one company in the regiment, Co. M of Riverside, has scored higher. Quartermaster-Sergeant Vialte made the best record, scoring 62 points out of a possible 75. The only other man who topped the 60 mark was Private Frants, whose score was 61. The others, whose scores were 50 or better, were: Sext. Mathews, 50; corp. Nickerson, 52; Corp. Allen, 55; Corp. EXCITING MEETING OF THE TOWN

Teachers' Institute - Real Estate Transactions - Nordhoff Boy Leaves with the Circus - Brief

VENTURA, Sept. 28.—[Regular Correspondence] A large number of the prominent business men and taxpayers of this city met in the town hall last night in response to a call issued by the Trustees. The meeting was called, as stated by Trustee Jones, for the purpose of discussing the advisability of the council paying the attorney's fees—$100—in the case of Hope Doeg vs. J. S. Coflins, etc. ex-Town Trustees, also the bill for the same amount in the case of Hope Doeg vs. F. S. Cook, ex-Town Marshal.

Town Attorney Toland filed his opinion in the matter, in which he stated that "the said bills were not legal charges against the town and that they must be paid by the individuals." VENTURA, Sept. 28.-[Regular Correspond-and that they must be paid by the individuals."

After the opinion was read the proceedings became interesting and exciting. Mayor Colins and Trustee Jones threatened to resign if the bills were not paid. The question was discussed considerably, after which it was unanimously decided by those present that they consent to the board paying the claims. The board then ordered a warrant for $100 to be drawn in favor of Blackstock and Ewing, also a warrant for same amount in favor of W. E. Shepherd. Trustee Badgley woted no on the above question, as he considered the claims illegal. City Clerk Newby asked for time to consider the matter and to consult his bondsmen and the Town Attorney. He received a written opinion this afternoon stating that he will not incur any liability by issuing the juarrants. The warrants were issued but as yet they have not been cashed. It is rumored that an injunction will be taken out restraining the treasurer from paying the warrants.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

This is the second day of the institute. A large number of ladies and high-school students were in attendance. The morning session was opened with "Preparation for High School Work" by J. C. Owen of Santa Paula. Miss Alice Younglove and Miss Blanche Tarr continued the rubject. Language in the different grades was next taken up. J. S. Denton of Lompoc High School talked upon "Mathematics." Holton Webb of the same place enlarged upon the topic. Prof. Thomas P. Bailey lectured upon "Discipline, Social and Moral."

The afternoon session opened by a paper on "Primary Reading" by Miss Stephens. This was illustrated by a class of third-grade pupils. Miss Addie Murphy of Los Angeles talked on physiculture and elecution. Prof. Bailey gave a lecture on "Studies, Formal and Formative."

This evening a literary and musical programme will be given at the Academy of Music. TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Many Posts Will be Represented a the G.A.R. Barbecue—An Infant's Corpse Found in the River Bottom Near Rincon.

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 28.—[Regular Correspondence.] At the meeting of the City Board of Trustees this morning, the business of primary importance was the opening of bids for the city advertising and job printing. For the former, the three local papers submitted bids. The proprietors and the reportorial force were present in their en-tirety and a lively interest 4was manifested in the result. The bids opened were as 601-lows: Press—First insertion, 34 cents per square, second insertion 6 cents per square, second insertion 6 cents per square, each subsequent insertion 2 cents per square; Enterprise, first insertion, 19 cents per square, next four insertions, 9 cents cents per square, next four insertions, 9 cents per square, every insertion after the fifth, 4 cents per square; Globe, first insertion, 7 cents per square, each insertion thereafter 5 cents per square. At the afternoon session the contract for the advertising was awarded to the Globe. The Press has been the city official paper of late. Hitherto bids for the advertising have not been advertised for, and the business has been a matter of patronage. The Press has been paid 60 cents per square for the first insertion, 40 and 25 cents for subsequent insertions, so that a drop to 7 and 5 cents will work a material saving to the city.

The Committee on Arrangements for the G.A.R. barbecue to be held October 12, which will include a good-sized representation from every post in the county, has adopted an order of exercises, which may be briefly summed up as follows:

At 9:30 a.m., there will be a drill and the firing of a salute by a detail from Co. M. N.G.C. From 10 to 11 there will be a battalion drill and music by the band. Between 11 and 12, the Sons of Veterans will meet, with a view to organizing a camp. The noon hour will be devoted to feasting and sociability. The early part of the afternoon will be devoted to the holding of campfires, at which county organization will be effected and an hour will be devoted to the telling of personal experiences on battlefields and incidents of dangerous service. The hour from 3:30 to 4:30 will be devoted to songs of the war.

A BABY'S CORPSE.

Coroner Sherman held an inquest Monday evening over the body of the infant found in the river bottom near Rincon bridge. The body was that of a female child several months old. A party of campers camped a few nights ago at a place near where the body was found, but the jury had no evidence to work upon and rendered a verdict of death from some unknown cause. The remains were ordered burled.

A GOOD SHOW.

WALTER L. MAIN'S CIRCUS WORTH GOING TO SEE.

Excellent Troupes of Trained Animals—Wild Beasts Performing in a Barred Inclosure—The Farmed Bovalapus of the Upper

Judging by the crowds that swarmed Washington Gardens yesterday, the perennial charm of the sawdust ring has not waned. A large percentage of Los Angeles had evidently laid to heart the exhortations of the flaming posters to see the "greatest show on earth," for it obediently showed up and took the children or its best girl, as the case might be. Myriads of small boys took themselves, and those who lacked the necessary two bits, either obtained entrance by the time-honored device of carrying water for the elephant, or perched on various coigns of vantage outside the canvas and listened hungrily to the entrancing sounds that issued from the unseen wonderland within.

Although not quite the "greatest within.

Although not quite the "greatest show on earth," this particular circus contains many good features. Anticipation is distinctly better than realization as far as the sideshows and menagerie are concerned, but there are some excellent acts in the circus itself. The trump card of the menagerie is, of course, the bovalapus. He is tied in a large inclosure, evidently more for his own safety than that of the crowd, as his man-eating propensities have calmed down since he emigrated from the Upper Nile. This particular relic of a nearly extinct species is a corpulent yellow animal with irregular features and a mild, cud-chewing expreslent yellow animal with irregular fea-tures and a mild, cud-chewing expres-sion. After the towering expectations raised by the posters, which depict a ravening monster with mouth like the Mammoth Cave, into which a shrieking and succulent "nigger" has already half disappeared, it is discouraging to note that the faded yellow reality could hardly swallow a kitten at a gulp. His mouth is small to insipidity, and opens when he requires his tongue for

The $20,000 troupe of wild animals really goes through its performance in "perfect harmony," of which the keynote is the whistle and thud of the note is the whistle and thud of the loaded blacksnake in the trainer's hand. The elephant makes himself useful all around, for he not only serves as a platform and step-ladder, but prefaces his performance by cannily pushing into the tent the great wagon which contains the other actors, rolling it along with his head as easily wagon which contains the other actors, rolling it along with his head as easily as if it were a baby carriage. The in-closure in which the beasts are turned loose is iron-barred and twelve feet high, but it is open at the top and suggests the highly exciting possibili-ties in the event of a little leggard or suggests the event of a lithe leopard or jaguar taking a little higher spring than usual and landing outside. The riding lion, clinging with all his toenails to the padded back of a reluctant and unhappy horse, has too much active business on hand to fool with any dreams of freedom, but the panther and leopard look enterprising enough to make things hum if they should take it into their heads to leap over the bars.

The other trained animals are very good, and do some clever tricks. The two performing elephants are as ponderously funny as only elephants can be, and the donkeys rival the clowns in low comedy. Horses there are in swarms, several smart trick horses among them. Ponies also play an active part in the programme, especially a troupe of six black Shetlands, not much bigger than respectable mice, but with their little skins stuffed full of mischief enough to disgrace an elephant.

The actors are almost uniformly good and the usual programme of riding, balancing, walking on the tight wire, trapeze performances, contortion and acrobatic acts, and aerial feats of all descriptions, is carried out in excellent style. The hippodrome races at the close have all the dash and go of real races, and rouse the usual wild enthusiasm in the breast of the small boy. The small boy himself had a chance to win distinction in bulk, for it was anounced that all who would race around the ring might stay to the concert without money and without price. That was enough A swarm of boys showered down from the benches into the ring, and there was not the elightest question as to the reality and "go" of that race. It was won by a diminutive darky whose legs flew like an electric fan, but his victory excited no envy in the breasts of the defeated competitors. Every man jack had won the chance to stay to the concert, and that filled hie cup of bilss to the brim.

Owing to the late start several features were omitted from the afternoon performance, but by evening everything was in full swing and doing its best to, be worthy of the "greateset show on earth."

Last night the big tent was crowded to its utmost capacity, many of the spectators being unable to get seats, and good-naturedly contenting themselves with places upon the straw of the hippodrome track. The sale of tickets ceased before the opening of the show, and many hundreds of persons were turned away.

The evening entertainment was excellent and was very highly praised by old-time circus-goors. The circus managers were also much pleased, not only by the size of the crowd, but by the perfect good-nature and orderliness of the people.

SHOT HER LOVER.

DUARTE WOMAN EXCHANGES COLD LEAD FOR INFIDELITY.

Sake, Mrs. Courtney Attempts to End the Earthly Career of Juan serted Her.

Mrs. Erorlinda Courtney of Duarte was brought to the County Jail yester-day afternoon charged with having shot and seriously wounded one Juan Sesmas, whom she had been serving as mistress for several months.

Erorlinda, who is a young woman of Spanish-Mexican parentage, told the story of the shooting and the circumstances leading up to the affair.

"I shot Sesmas because he played me "I shot Sesmas because he played me false," she commenced. "About a year ago my husband and I were living happily together. Sesmas made our acquaintance, and my husband soon acquaintance, and my husband soon became jealous on account of his attentions toward me. Finally we separated and I went to live with Sesmas. He promised to support me like a lady, and offered all kinds of inducements, most of which he never fulfilled.

"As time rolled on, Juan seemed to tire of me, and became indifferent. Finally he paid no attention to me whatever, and I was left alone. Last Saturday night we met and had a talk, and he got mad and threatened to kill me. He drew his knife and attempted to strike me with it, but I ran away.

"Juan has been working in an orchard near Duarte, and last night I mounted my horse and rode over so as to meet him just as he was coming from work. When he came out of the or to meet him just as he was coming from work. When he came out of the orchard I rode to his side and told him I wished to speak with him. He said he didn't have anything to say to me, and when I repeated my request to be allowed to have a word with him, he commenced to abuse me by calling me vile names. I was enraged at his conduct, and, drawing the revolver I had taken with me, shot him in the back just as he was turning to leave me."

Mrs. Courtney refused to state the object of her visit to Sesmas at the orchard Monday night further than that he had been treating her cruelly, and she wanted to have a talk with him. She admitted, however, that she had procured the revolver for the occasion, stating that as Sesmas had easion, stating that as Sesmas had once attempted to kill her, she did not ropose to take any chances. Her husband is in San Bernardino, where he is at present employed as a

After having shot the man who Eror-After naving shot the man who Erori-linda says had betrayed her, she rode back to town and telephoned Sheriff Burr the facts concerning the shoot-ing. The Sheriff then notified Con-stable Dayldson at Monrovia and or-dered him to take the woman into custody. Erorlinda promptly surrendered and arrived at the jail yesterday afternoon. After telling her story she exernoon. After telling her story she ex-pressed much apprehension as to the outcome of the affair, and the chances of an acquittal.

"Juan treated me shamefully," Erorlinda concluded, "and I think he erved much worse treatment than he received."

Sesmas's wound will not prove fatal, although his condition was at first believed to be critical.

We're Proud!

Why shouldn't we be proud of our Trimmed Hat work?
Even the lowest-priced hat passes under the eye of a no appeal, and must be perfect before it leaves the house. We do not mean by this that our $1 hat has as much style as our $5 hat. We do mean. however, that our dollar hat has a dollar's worth of style, even as our $5 hat has $5 worth of style, You, too, will be proud of our Trimmed Hat work when you have selected your's for the coming season. to
